Daniel Webster To his follow-citizens, on Tuesday esimieg, la Bordala Square, Boston The great thoroughfare was filled with thousands of the good people of Buston and vicinity, who had come up, aktion denoctional party or rect, to great the great Avenican Statisman the Deraydee of the Constitution-

Pollow-Citizens of Besten :- You reflow failures of Hoden in You rather take me by surprise this morning—but it is a very agreeable surprise. I must much pleased to see your cheerful and saudified farrents at least to see your cheerful and saudified farrents at least to see again the face of that luminary which thines out from the heavens above my and if gentlement you are helf see gird.

arth guillemen, you're half as gird to see me as I am to meet you, there is at this moment a great quantity of happiness and good feeling in Bowdoin Equine. (Applicate.)

Genthemen, a long and violenteen substitute of the elements has presed away, and the heavenment the skies smile upon us. There is often an analogy between or turners in the natural medial tween occurrences in the natural work can recommend in the moral and positives routile and span-cel world, and sometimes political agi-tations passaway, bringing after them run-time, joy-and gludness. May it be so now. I greet you as citizens of Box-ton; I welcome you. I offer you to heart and hard with the deepest got-tide for what you not consider the tude for what you and your fathers have done for me, from the days of my early manhood, when I came from the North manneous, waen i came trom the North to throw myrell among yeu, to partake of your fortunes, for good or for evil, to the end of my life. I am not vam enough to suppore, felloweitizens, that I have done may essential service to my country in my day. If I have so done however hitle, or however much it done, however little, or however much it be. I owe it mainly to the constant, the warm, the nowavering friendship and support of the people of Boston. I am bound the way of all the earth. I shall ere long follow your fathers and my latters to my fact home. But while I live and breathe, while I have the power of language, or of thought, a hile my heart beats or my longen moves, I shall teel and I shall speak of Buston, as the cherished objectofmy public, political cherished object of my public, political, I may say, friendly regard.

Gentlemen, you do not expect to hear from me to-day any discourse. I come to see you, and you come to see me,-to see you, and you come to see me.—
It is not an accasion for the discussion of any political topics. You do not expect me to detain you from your affairs, while I releasine any opinions of my own, or etaie the ground of those opinions. But let me congratulate me, that the events of the last year or two have

Yes, fellow-citizens, the youngest of your children, the youngest of your grand-children will grow up to man-band in the proud Reeling that they are burn to an inheritance of imperishable liberty in these United States of North America, and in this ancient and beloved-I say beloved, and to be always venerated under all circumstances-belove I and venerated Commonwealth of Mag-achuseus.

Why, fellow-citzens, we need not be vain, we need ant be too much self-satisfied, but after all who is there among you at this moment that would exchang his political and social condition for the which helals the inhabitant or the resi dent of any other country under the wide scope of the canopy which is over us?— Where would you go with satisfaction? Where would you go with satisfaction? You would stay under the institutions of your country with satisfaction; you would enjoy that political power which is so universally disseminated on popular principles, with satisfaction and gratification. For here every ritizen leels he is a main. If he is one of the governors, and he has a voice of every transaction, and has a voice of every transaction. and he has a voice in every transaction of juddie policy and national concern of jubic policy and national concern— Lut others say what they will; let others commend what they please; let them like either a more royal, a more despatic, or a more democratic form of govern-ment; for myself, and I believe I may speak for you, we are satisfied with our condition, as people of the United State, and citizens of Massachusetts—living under a free, popular, and Jorious reunder a free, popular, and glorious re-presentative government, which makes us known favorably all over the world.

Gentlemen, let us do 5, air of 1.60km g in baladi of our country. We see it growing in prospority. We shall see growing in prosperity. We shall so that the returning sense of the control that the returning sense of the commu-nity, the great principle of love of liber ty-and, we might add, and I would add, with all the empirasis that I can purrout of my heart—the love of Union will keep us together. (Applause)— If I had ten thousand voices, if I cauld speak so as to be heard on the thores of the Pacific, if I could gasher arount rate the whole of this vast patien, in world say, lefter ritizens, knim, two the the whole of this vast ration, I would say, lellow ritizens, which, which would to rever! Desout's Fog Whister at Beaves Tata Lion t .- As every thing which Las a tendency to dispel the fogs which frequently prevail on this coast, or to render them navigable, is of importance, we should not omit to sorice the fact that Mr. Daboll, the inventor of the Air Whirtle, has erected a preuy large building at Beaver Tail, and which is to receive the proper, or necessary machinery for working his Fog Whistle, by Horse power. From what we can learn relative to the subject we feel conlident that it must prove successful .-We hear it said that his machinery is nearly completed, and we hope soon to be lavored, not only with a blast from the Air Whistle, such as we can hear all the way from Beaver Tail, but also with a description of every thing connected with this highly interesting enterptise.

57-THE LADIES KEEPSARZ, edited by Professor Abbott, and published monthly, by John S. Taylor, 143 Nassau street, New York. This will make one of the most elegant annual volumes ever published in this country. The volume for 1851 will contain twelve splendid engravines of the most illustrious Women of the Bible with descriptive sketches of each. We would call the attention of the Ladies to this work, and as an inducement to subscriptions, the publisher will forward the work, free of portuge, to office of publication, one dollar; seven copies for five dollars, fifteen copies for ten dollars. Money may be sent by mail, at the risk of the publisher.

A Good Menicine.-The Oxygenated Bitters have received the highest testimonials ever offered in favor of any medicine in the world, as may be seen by all who will take the trouble to read the certificates in another column, of citizens whose character and standing are widely known, and whose names eastlition a flug of thguod ad ten bluco medicine.

As a remedy for Dyspensia, Asthma, and General Debility, it has no equal .-Give it a trial, and prove its wonderful efficacy.

Hermanville is beautifully located in the midst of the new lands, about fortynight miles from Brooklya, and adjuning the Long Island Railroad, two house from New York-fare $1.10, and about three indes from the great South Bay, where there is an inexhaustable supply of fish, oysters and clams, and of the destignality I ever saw. About one mile from Ronkonkoma Lake, a beautiful sheet of water, that is not surpassed by any in the United States, abandoning in 5th; and which lake I should judge to be about 10 feet above the land. of Hermannville, and the water of which might be brought there or to Lekeland sufficient to supply 50,000 inhabitants with the purest and finest water. The soil is as good as any that I saw, from the time that I left Boston until my teturn; being 2 1-2 feet in debth, and a fine sandy loam, and as good as I ever saw oak and pine timber grow upon.-I am fully estisfied that there is no better soil, except interval land, within fitty miles of Boston or New York. Han !some oak and pine timber, and very thrifty young wood abounds on these lands, and I consider the climate very healthy, and the Spring early.

I was somewhat suprised, whilst in the railroad cars, to hear the old settlers on the shores describing the centre land of the Island as good for nothing, whilst their own was as good as could be found in the United States; many advising me to return home or go and see their land. One of these asked me to buy of him; for his soil was good, but the Hermanville land good for nothing, asked me $100 per acre for some, and $200 per acre for other.— Now Hermanville land is bounded on the East by this man's land, but he assured me the soil is good only as far as his boundary extends, but no fartherthe dividing line spoiling all the land beyond his. I travelled over the vicinity three days with a grabbing hoe, and examined the soil as I passed, finding it as I have stated, and nearly all of equal quality. I am well, very well aausted with my village lot, containing 20,000 feet, and for which I paid $25, and this I call cheap enough. I can truly ray, that I found the place far beyond what t anticipated, and return thanks to Mr. Wood, the owner of the lands at Her mannville, for placing his statement of their value below their real worth,

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO .- A hundred years ago a German monarch reigned over these United States-then colonics of Great Britain—and on the whole earth, with the exception of Sastzerland, there was not a single republic of any pretensions. A hundred years ago the French lilies floated over Quebec Pittsburgh, and New Orleans. A hundred years ago the old French monarchy existed-the Bastile reared its accursed towers-Louis XV. dailled with infamous wantons, equandered his subjects, money, and blasphomed, in his own person, the name of man. THE FIRST KISS. ET MUL BETMER.

In the University of Upsala, in Swedea, lived a young student—a lonely youth, with a great love for studies, but without means for pursoing them. He was poor and without connections .-Still he stadied, living in great poverty. but keeping a cheerful heart, and trying not to look at the toture, which looked so grimly at him. His good hemorand good qualities made him beloved by his young comrades. Once he was standing with some of them in the great agrane of Uprala, prating away an hour of leisure, when the attention of the young man became arrested by a very young and elegant lady, who, at the side of an elderly one, walked slowly over the place. It was the daughter of the Governor of Upland, living in the city, and the lady with her was the governess. She was generally known for her beauty and for her goodness and gentleriess of character, and was looked upon with great admiration by the studenta. As the young men now stood sheady gazing at her as she passed on like a graceful vision, one of them exelaimed: "Well, it would be worth comething to have a Mas from such a month?" The poor young student, the hero of our story, who was looking intently on that pure and angelic face, exclaimed, as if by inspiration, "Well, I thick I could have it." "What!" cried his frienda in a chorus, rare you crazy? Do you know her?" etc. "Not at all," he answered; but I think she would kiss me, just now, if I asked her." What! in this place, before all our eyes?" "In this place, before your eyes." "Rreely?" "Freely." "Well, if she will give you a kiss in that manner, I will give you a thousand do! lars rexclaimed one of the party. "And I!" "And I!" cried three or four others, for it so happened that several rich young men were in the group, and bets ran high on so improbable an event, and the challenge was made, and received in less time than we take to relate it. Our hero-my authority tells not whether he was handsome or plain,- I have my peculiar reasons for believing that he was rather plain, but singularly good looking at the same time-our hero immediately walked off to meet the young lady. He bowed to her, and said "My lady (min froleen,) my fortune is in your hand." She looked at him in astonishment, but arrested her steps .---He proceeded to state his name and condition, his aspirations, and related simply and truly what had just passed between him and his companions. The young lady listened attentively, and when he had ceased to speak, she said, blushing, but with great sweetness: "If by so little a thing so much good can be affected, it would be foolish in me to refuse your request"-and she kissed the young man publicly in the open equare. Next day, the young student was sent for by the Governor. He wanted to see the man who had dared to ask a kiss of his daughter in that way, and whom she had consented to kies so.— He received him with a severe and scrutinizing brow, but, after an hour's conversation, was to pleased with him that he offered him to dine at his table during his atudies in Upsala. Our young friend now pursued his studies in a manuer which 2001 made him regarded as the most promising scholar at the University. Three years were not passed after the day of the first kiss, when the young man was allowed to give a second one to the lovely daughter of the Governor, as to his in-

Hie became fater one of the greatest scholars in Sweden, as much respected for his learning as for his character .-His works will endure for ever among the works of science, and from his happy union sprung a family well known in Sweden in the present day, and whose wealth of fortune and high position in rociety are regarded as small things, compared with its wealth of goodness and love.

EXPERITINGE Is the Brisis of Diseased to feel, is to KNOW, and that which is now and known must not be contradicted. When Gaileo amounced the discovery of new planets, the Aristotelians and, a This is impossible of the problem of the philosophers rejuded "We will not look but we should see them." There are a few people are adays analythat they will not look at facts lest some projude should be disturbed. These persons are, lowerer, not moreous, and their stupidity igness to body but themselves. The character of Dr. S. P. Townson's Compound Extract of Saxaparilla rests upon universal experience alone. Without this solid foundation, it never could have attained the widesprend popularity which it at present eapong for value and medicinal efficacy being that domentated by the experience of themselves, it is only necessary to say that referee americans and Chemist of the bight rank,

P. TOWNSEND'S EXRACT OF SARSAFARILLA In Colamocas Disease, is well worthy the notice of those afficied with such disagreedle craptions:

New York, Arguet 6, 1880.

Dr. S. P. Temrans — Dear first is an most happy to acknowledge that, after suffering for nearly nine years with the Sall Renam in a very eggravated form, and being abandoned as incorable by several for our first physicians, I was finally persuaded to try your far-framed Sarrapavilla. The effects were soon perceptible, and when I had used ten builted, formy great surprise I found myself not only cure! to my great surprise I found myself not only cure! Only great surprise I Dund myrelf not only cured of that most disagreeable and firstiting disease, but my gazarah health was so much improved that it satisfacts my family and friends. Since then I have trivial others to make use of your Medicine, and have noticed its monderful effects curing in numerous disease, not allowables caused have a had detailed. one diseases, not allogether caused by a had state of the blood.

and it will give me great pleasure to active my care personally to any lady that is similarly amicled.

COUGHS AND COLDS.

Dr. 5. P. Townsend's Sarraparilla contains just the qualities that are requisite in these cases. It acts as a mild alterative and espectorant, thus changing the action of the system, and embling it to throw off the complaint. The number of instances in which complaint. and Colds have been cure! by this preparelina le lamense.

Dr. 5. 7 Townsend -- Dear Sir: I was taken sick about a year ago, which was thought by many would result in Consumption. Had not only Dr. in the control of Brooming June 13, 1550. "A GREAT MEDICINE."

"We have uniformly effained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, taless theroughly continued of their rabe. Among those we consider worthy of cotice is the Genom Better, insented by Dr. Hoofland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this notlicine has been tested.

Hooftenst, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Phila delphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior vintees of this medicine lust been tested, has fillen moder our observation. During the less summer, a son of Mr. Abraham Crabill, of this county, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Complaint, and after trying in vain various researches, he purchased a boule of the Butters, and after using it, was so much reflered of his distressing tashady, that he procured another bottle, and is restored varied to "health books and is restored varied to "health books." From "The Weldon Herald," published at Weldon, N. C., January 25, 1850, which raid—"Other Medicines."

Oli is very reldon that we make any allusion to Patent Medicines, either approving or other wise. Enfortunately for the country, and for honest and concelections invarious and vanders of these medicines, the land is becoming flooded with quack preparations, that are made alone for profit, and are fit not even for the dogs. In this state of things it is hard to fell which are, and which are not earth having. If a person gets an indifferent medicine the first time be purchases, he is very apt to contain the whole of them and low no more, and instances must only blame those of their number, (who ignorantly combine plain medicines together for the purpose of making money,) for the ill-encores which attends the effort of ribo deserving."

the Detectors which attends the effort of the deserving."

"We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's 'Hooft unt's farman Biters,' to be a most excellent medicine, and one that should be highly popular in there days of Temperance—for they are altogether Vegetable in their compesition, without one drop of Alcolotic Spirits in them. This medicine is introcent, but strengthening in its effects, and richly deserving of an onleaneded popularity, which, when it becomes known, it will, no doubt, fully enjoy."

Judge M. M. Noah said, in his "Weekly Mestenger," January 6, 1859.

"Dr. Hooftond's German Bitters—life is a preparation within the leading presses in the Union appear to be manimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. It is unde after a prescription furnished by one of the most telebrated physicians of modern times—the late Dr. Christopher Willelm Hooftonder, professor to the University of Jens, private physician to the king of Prussia, and one of the greatest needkal writers German has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of humber, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor ant-endorser may be conferently reflect on. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspacia, Debility, Vertigo, Acidity of the Stomach, Constipation, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the Breast and the intestines. Nine Philadelphia tapers express their conviction of its excellence, and serveral of the editors speak of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstances, we feel warmated, not of present propriets's (Dr. C. M. Jackson's) preparation, but a recommending the article to all afflicted."
